

"Research in Germany" at the 48th Fall Meeting of the American Geophysical Union (AGU)

Come and visit us in San Francisco, USA from December 14-18, 2015 and find out what research opportunities Germany can offer you!

At the heart of Europe, Germany is one of the best destinations for cutting-edge research in geosciences and environmental sciences. Why not consider a PhD, a research stay or a cooperation with Germany? You could even start your independent research group at one of Germany's leading geoscientific research institutions!

Representatives of German funding organizations, Clusters of Excellence and other outstanding research institutions, research consortia and research training groups are eager to talk to you about the many possibilities and answer questions you may have.

Visit us at our collaborative "Research in Germany" booth or at one of our special events at the AGU conference venue and downtown.

We look forward to seeing you!

For further information please contact Bettina Schuffert, DFG Office North America (+1 (202) 729-6350, bettina.schuffert@dfg.de) or Annina Lottermann, DFG Head Office Germany (+49 (228) 885-2802, annina.lottermann@dfg.de) or visit the Research in Germany website.

Information Booths

Mon, Dec. 14, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Tue, Dec. 15 - Thu, Dec. 17, 9:30 am - 5:00 pm

Fri, Dec. 18, 9:30 am - 1:30 pm

Moscone Center, Exhibit Hall, North Hall, Hall D; Booths #125, 129, 224, 226, 228

Interested in research, funding and cooperation opportunities in Germany? Representatives of German funding organizations, Clusters of Excellence and outstanding research institutions, research consortia and research training groups will provide advice and networking options at this collaborative booth organized by "Research in Germany".

Meet representatives of the following institutions:

Funding Organizations

American Friends of the AvH; German Academic Exchange Service; German Research Foundation

Clusters of Excellence and Non-University Research Institutions

CliSAP, Universität Hamburg; MARUM, University of Bremen; The Future Ocean - Kiel Marine Sciences; GFZ, Potsdam

Research Consortia

The First 10 Million Years of the Solar System; Waves to Weather; Our Way to Europe (Tue)

Climate Engineering; Regional Sea Level Change and Society; Climate-Biogeochemistry Interactions in the Tropical Ocean (Wed)

DynamicEarth; EarthShape; geo-Q (Thu)

Research Training Groups

ArcTrain (Tue)

Natural Hazards and Risks in a Changing World (Wed)

Attendance is open to all registered visitors and participants of the AGU Fall Meeting 2015 and a visit is especially recommended to PhD students, postdocs and early-career researchers.

Lunch Talks

Flagships of Research Infrastructure in Germany

Tue, Dec. 15 - Thu, Dec. 17, Starting at Noon

Moscone Center, Exhibit Hall, North Hall, Hall D; Booths #125, 129, 224, 226, 228

Do you want to know what is going on in the German research landscape? Learn about cutting-edge research infrastructure such as mass spectrometers, research vessels and satellites, how they are used in innovative German research projects and how to get access. Refreshments will be served.

Tue, Dec. 15, Lab Infrastructure

Mario Trieloff, Heidelberg University

Harry Becker, Freie Universität Berlin

Wed, Dec. 16, Research Vessels

Gerhard Kuhn, Alfred Wegener Institute

Isobel Yeo, Geomar

Thu, Dec. 17, Satellites

Hermann Lühr, GFZ

Jakob Flury, Leibniz Universität Hannover

Moderation

Albert Gerdes, MARUM

Attendance is open to all registered visitors and participants of the AGU Fall Meeting 2015 and is especially recommended to postdocs and early-career researchers.

Career Café

How to Do Research in Germany: Your Questions - Our Answers

Wed, Dec. 16, 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm

Moscone Center, South Hall, Halls A-C, Poster Hall, Student Lounge

Brochures and websites don't offer you enough information? Take the opportunity to ask PhD students, early career researchers and representatives from funding organizations your individual questions on career opportunities in Germany. Refreshments will be served.

Meet the following scientists:

PhD Opportunities

Dominik Palgan, Geomar/Helmholtz Research School for Ocean System Science and Technology (HOSST)

Laura Castro de la Guardia, University of Alberta, International Research Training Group ArcTrain, Canada
Samira Samimi, University of Calgary, International Research Training Group ArcTrain, Canada

Research Opportunities

Anna Joy Drury, MARUM
Jacob Geersen, Geomar
Janna Just, University of Cologne

Klemen Zakšek, Universität Hamburg
Nicole Klasen, University of Cologne

Funding Programs for PhD Students

Julian Reyes, Washington State University (DAAD RISE Program, Fulbright Grant)

Funding Programs for Early Career Researchers

Gregory Newman, Lawrence Berkeley National Lab (Humboldt Research Fellowship for Postdoctoral Researchers)
Dirk Sachse, GFZ (DFG Emmy Noether Programme)

Attendance is open to all registered visitors and participants of the AGU Fall Meeting 2015 and is especially recommended to PhD students, postdocs and early-career researchers.

DFG Leibniz Lecture

“Tectonics and Climate of the Southern Central Andes”

Manfred Strecker, University of Potsdam

Thu, Dec. 17, 7:00 pm

Goethe-Institut San Francisco,

530 Bush Street

Manfred Strecker, University of Potsdam, awardee of the prestigious German Leibniz Prize, will review the geological and environmental history of the southern central Andes of NW Argentina. His lecture titled “Tectonics and Climate of the Southern Central Andes” will address the fundamental impact of active tectonic processes on precipitation and erosion in this non-collisional mountain belt.

Attendance is open to all interested visitors.

German Social

Thu, Dec. 17, 8:00 pm

Goethe-Institut San Francisco,

530 Bush Street

Researchers at all career levels, representatives of funding organizations and administrators are cordially invited to mingle and network in an informal and relaxed setting. Refreshments will be served.

Attendance is open to all interested visitors.

Presentation of the German Bid for the 37th IGC

Tue, Dec. 15, 4:00 pm - 5:00 pm

Moscone Center, Exhibit Hall, North Hall, Hall D; Booth #125

After consulting the main German geoscientific stakeholders, the German National Committee for the IUGS decided to submit a bid to host the 37th IGC in 2024 in the city of Berlin. Learn more about the German bid and its concept at the "Research in Germany" booth.

Attendance is open to all interested and registered visitors and participants of the AGU Fall Meeting 2015.

And More

...Will you participate in the AGU Fun Run and do you want to join the "Research in Germany" team? Get more information at our booths. Get one of only a few team t-shirts!

...Do you have a collector's heart? Then stop by our booth and take a small piece of Germany with you.

The initiative "Research in Germany - Land of Ideas" is funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF). Its main objective is to present Germany's research achievements and opportunities to the international research community and key international markets. Within the initiative the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation (AvH), the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), the German Research Foundation (DFG) and the Fraunhofer Society (Fraunhofer) jointly promote Germany as a research location together with scientists from German research institutions.
